ABOUT THE JOURNAL. We wanted our journal to have a Basque name that is easily pronounced, and that conveys what makes this journal possible: BOGA, a Basque word for rowing, integrates our logo of the "estropadak" or the Basque row boat and thus the concept of people sharing in the effort to promote BASQUE STUDIES. Boga is also the name of a Basque language learning software program of the Basque Government's H.A.B.E. Department, and the cross-reference is exactly where we want to be, as Basque Studies is also about the promotion of learning Basque. CONSORTIUM derives from the Latin consors which means 'partner'. Basque Studies at Boise State University remains committed to the forging of "Learning Links" via collaboration with other institutions and individuals in a viable network to mutually support efforts in Basque Studies. Finally, this peer-reviewed JOURNAL is a means to disseminate original scholarly works on Basque related topics in an online, open-access format.
